Workshop: “Evaluating Outcomes in Injury Prevention”

A workshop will be held on April 3 on “Evaluating Outcomes In Injury Prevention” This will be of interest to all those who are working on injury prevention programs, or would like to.

The workshop is very low cost — $15.00. Sign up by contacting Carmen Martinez at cmartinez3@umcaz.edu or 520-694-4806. Sign up now, as space is limited.

This is a follow-up to last year’s injury prevention conference, which was attended by about 85 people.

This will be a real “hands-on” workshop. After some preliminary “how-to” information is presented, those attending will work on actual plans to evaluate various injury prevention programs. The issue is, “how do you know if your prevention efforts are succeeding”?

Plan to develop evaluation plans for your current injury prevention project, or one you are thinking about. We will also have a number of other injury prevention projects from the area on the table from which to choose. Small groups will develop ways to evaluate the outcomes of these programs.

The workshop will be held at Kiewit Auditorium in the Arizona Cancer Center, which is at the front of UMC in Tucson. Park in the visitor’s parking lot in front of the hospital.

Issue No. 17, March 13, 2008

“EZ-IO” Intraosseous Training Opportunity Monday, March 17

A hands-on skills session on the new “EZ-IO” intraosseous insertion device will be offered at UMC Emergency Department on Monday, March 17 from 0730-0900. The session will be presented by the company representative and will provide the opportunity to use the device on special training manikins. The session is free and no pre-registration is required — just show

Trauma education schedule is on pages 2-5 of this newsletter.

Presenters will be Pam Goslar of St. Joseph’s Hospital & Medical Center in Phoenix and Dan Judkins of UMC in Tucson. Both are injury epidemiologists working for their hospitals’ trauma program.

See the attached pdf of a 4-page flyer for more details.

The program will also be offered in Phoenix on May 2 at the Goldman Auditorium at St. Joseph’s Hospital & Medical Center. For information on that session and to register, contact Tami Berrelez at 602-406-3157 or tami.berrelez@chw.edu.
